Federation of Environmental Technologists, Inc

Educating and Developing Excellence in Environmental, Health and Safety Professionals

Welcome

We Invite You to Attend Environment 2018 Conference and Exhibition

A unique aspect that sets FET apart is bringing regulators and businesses together in a non-adversarial setting to share information and provide guidance to meet compliance with environmental regulations, while maintaining economic growth. FET is proud to continue this tradition with the Environment 2018 Conference and Exhibition on October 23 - 25, 2018 at the newly remodeled and renamed The Ingleside Hotel in Pewaukee (formerly the Country Springs Hotel and Conference Center).

Each year since 1984, FET has hosted the Conference and Exhibition to meet the needs of its members and other environmental professionals. The goal is to foster understanding of regulations and technology in the environmental, health and safety field. This year's Conference features five pre-conference Professional Development Courses on Tuesday, and on Wednesday and Thursday, 28 breakout sessions on important topics for environmental and safety professionals will be held. The Wednesday program includes an opening plenary session and Thursday morning's program opens with a plenary panel discussion. Concurrent to the technical and regulatory breakout sessions on Wednesday and Thursday, a variety of exhibitors will be showcasing their products and services for EHS professionals.

A free hors d'oeuvres and cash bar reception will be held at the conclusion of Wednesday's program. The reception, an FET tradition, is a great way to relax and network with your peers. The reception also features a Silent Auction to benefit FET's Scholarship fund.

Visit our website at www.fetinc.org for more information or call the FET office at 262-437-1700 to have your questions answered. If you are not an FET member, please consider joining to receive the discounted Conference Registration member rates, and enjoy the benefits of FET membership throughout the year.

We look forward to interacting with Members, Exhibitors and other Guests during three full days of activities as you learn and connect with your peers in the EHS field.

We hope to see you at ENVIRONMENT 2018!

Professional Development Courses

Choose from five Professional Development Courses (PDC) designed to help you meet specific regulation requirements. Course registration fees for the full day courses include lunch, refreshments and printed material; the half day course does not include lunch. Registration for each of these programs is on page 11.

Full agendas for each course are available at www.fetinc.org or scan here

Industrial Wastewater - 8:00 AM - 4:15 PM

This course is designed to familiarize operators and supervisors with the fundamentals of system operation, techniques utilized, and a working knowledge of industrial wastewater treatment systems; and to broaden knowledge and provide DNR wastewater treatment operator continuing education hours.

Safety Issues - 8:00 AM - 4:00 PM

This course will provide an update of on walking working surfaces and silica, injury reporting, confined space and lock out tag out. It is recommended for individuals new to the EHS field, for those in the environmental field that are now also responsible for safety, and for those interested in a refresher of safety topics.

Environmental, Health & Safety Primer - 8:25 AM - 4:30 PM

This course will provide a general understanding and update of environmental regulations and management. Major regulatory areas will be covered. It is recommended for individuals new to the environmental field, especially those with regulatory responsibilities. It also serves as a good refresher and overview. We will review regulatory requirements, permits, record-keeping, reporting, common violations and training.

Air Basics - 8:30 AM - 2:30 PM

This course is intended for new and less experienced staff responsible for air pollution regulatory compliance by providing information on state and federal regulations, permits and exemptions, records, reporting and monitoring, and specific reminders on the RICE rule. Come find out what you might be missing in your compliance practices!

EPCRA Half Day - 1:00 PM - 4:30 PM

This course covers current EPCRA applicability and reporting requirements, including chemical lists, applicability thresholds, required reporting, deadlines, available reporting tools, and mandatory documentation. Practical applications of the requirements are provided.

Online Job Board at Environment 2018

Register for the Conference and have access to an online Job Board for individuals looking for work as well as companies looking to hire. Jobs will be posted online during the Conference plus a week after the program. Posting is free and available only to those individuals attending or companies exhibiting at the conference. For more information, visit www.fetinc.org, under the Annual Conference tab or scan code.

Job submission deadline is Wednesday, October 17th.

Luncheon Keynote Speakers

Featured Keynoter

Cathy Stepp

Regional Administrator for EPA Region 5

Cathy Stepp serves as the Regional Administrator for EPA Region 5. Her responsibilities include overseeing environmental protection efforts in the Great Lakes states of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin, as well as 35 federally recognized tribal governments. One of her roles is manager of EPA Great Lakes National Program, in which she leads restoration and protection of the largest freshwater system in the world. Before joining Region 5, she was principal deputy regional administrator for EPA Region 7.

Ms. Stepp served as the secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources from 2011 to 2017. As state cabinet secretary, she led the third largest state agency with about 4,000 employees and was responsible for state enforcement and protection of wildlife, fisheries, state parks, trails, forests and environmental permitting.

Ms. Stepp also served as a Wisconsin state senator from 2003 to 2007, where she represented nearly 160,000 constituents and authored and advanced legislation on regulatory reform, job creation and other issues. Prior to entering public service, Ms. Stepp owned a small business, a home-building company.

David Maack

CEM, CPM, WCEM, Emergency Management Coordinator
Racine County Office of Emergency Management

David has built a program that has received national recognition from both the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the International Association of Emergency Managers (IAEM). Two Racine County Emergency Management Programs were included in FEMA's Compendium of Exemplary Practices and in 2003, FEMA highlighted the efforts of Racine County in implementing a disaster drill to test the response capabilities of emergency responders and local Boy Scout camp staff in the event of an emergency.

Elected in 2001, David was a five term alderman in Racine as well as serving on 15 different committees, boards or commissions during his tenure. In addition, he has garnered 16 Media awards from the International Association of Emergency Managers since 1995 and has written numerous articles on Emergency Management, including a chapter on emergency management for the Wisconsin Counties Association's County Handbook.

He has also spoken extensively on emergency management for various groups including the Wisconsin Governor's Conference on Emergency Management and the National Training & Exercise Conference held at the Emergency Management Institute in Emmitsburg, Maryland and the Wisconsin Counties Association.

FET Annual Meeting

Join us on Tuesday, October 23rd at 5:30 PM for FET's Annual Meeting in the Fieldstone Room. We will be recognizing FET's volunteer leaders and give an update on FET activities. Everyone is welcome; there is no fee to attend the annual meeting.

Conference Welcome Dinner

The Conference Welcome Dinner will be held following the Annual Meeting. It will include a cash bar and dinner, and is a great way to celebrate FET and socialize with others that are attending the conference. Spouses and Guests are welcome to attend. Registration and payment are required for the dinner; please use the form on page 11 to register.
